GLATFELTER LAUNCHES NEW WEBSITE

YORK, Pennsylvania – 10/3/07 – Glatfelter, a global manufacturer of specialty papers and engineered products, has launched a new website (www.glatfelter.com) providing information on their portfolio of papers and custom solutions.

The new website highlights the company's key business segments including Book Publishing Papers, Carbonless and Forms, Composite Laminates, Engineered Products, Envelope and Converting Papers, Food & Beverage Papers, Metallized Products, and Technical Specialties.

The website also features links to the Myglatfelter.com e-commerce sites. Myglatfelter.com provides customers with 24/7 access to real-time information where registered users can place orders, view order status, release inventory and track shipments, among other tasks.

Other highlights of the website include:

- An Innovations Section, where visitors can share their ideas about a new product, service or custom application.
- A Product and Applications Section, providing access to Glatfelter's portfolio of highly engineered products, including product descriptions, technical specifications and helpful related links.
- An Environmental Section, where visitors can learn more about sustainable forestry, Glatfelter's environmental management system, and Glatfelter's on-going research with Carnegie Mellon's Institute for Green Chemistry.
- A News and Events Section that includes recent and archived press releases, events information, a media library, media contacts and requests.

In addition, the company is developing an Interactive Tour (to debut in the first quarter of 2008), which will allow visitors to virtually experience a fully integrated pulp and paper mill. After taking the Interactive Tour, visitors will come away with a better understanding of how paper is made. Customers will find this to be an ideal training tool for new employees or a refresher for seasoned veterans. School students, community leaders and the informed investor will equally benefit from this behind-the-scenes look at papermaking.

Customers, prospective customers, suppliers, investors, employees and other Glatfelter stakeholders are encouraged to visit the web site or call 1-866-744-7380 for more information.
