Glatfelter Donates New Tom Clancy Best-Seller to Local Library

Neenah, Wis. (October 4, 2002) – In continuing support of the Neenah Public Library, Glatfelter has donated the recent Tom Clancy novel, Red Rabbit. The book is currently listed on the New York Times Best-Sellers List and is printed on paper produced at Glatfelter's Spring Grove Facility in Spring Grove, Pennsylvania.

Glatfelter began donating bestsellers to the Neenah Public Library in January 2001 as a demonstration of its social responsibility and in support of the community surrounding its Neenah papermaking facility. Since the Company started this program, 16 titles printed on Glatfelter paper have reached the New York Times Bestsellers list, including Dreamcatcher by Stephen King and The Smoke Jumper by Nicholas Evans, and all have been donated to the Neenah Public Library. The Company offers the same program to libraries located near its paper facility in Spring Grove.

Headquartered in York, Pennsylvania, Glatfelter is a global manufacturer of specialty papers and engineered products. In addition to its U.S. operations in Neenah and Spring Grove, Glatfelter operates facilities in Germany, France and the Philippines. Glatfelter's common stock is traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the ticker symbol GLT.
